

Hacienda Sarria Wedding FAQ:

Hacienda Sarria is such a beautiful space, what is the history behind it?

In 1902, 5,000 acres of Sugar Beets were planted in Waterloo County and a factory was needed to receive them. The Ontario Sugar Company purchased 70 acres of land in what was then known as Berlin to house the first Sugar Factory in Canada. Unfortunately, this endeavor was short-lived and the company went bankrupt in 1908. The main factory was demolished by scrap dealers to assist with the war effort in the late 1930s and only the storehouse remained, about 1/5th of the original structure.

Today, the original sugar storage shed (shown far left) is only portion that remains. Reinvented as the stunning Hacienda Sarria in 2010, it is a building that would not be out of place in any Spanish city.
